

ZHOU WEIHUA

Born in 1970 in Shandong Province, Zhou Weihua was heavily influenced by all aspects of Western culture, from television shows to fast food, as well as music and books. Zhou Weihua's works are filled with these icons from his childhood which he juxtaposes with flying figures, thus injecting an element of fantasy into his paintings. Zhou Weihua creates works that are relevant to the modern world, reflecting the experience of his generation in Chinese society with themes that are also recognized by his Western contemporaries. He has exhibited widely in China, most notably at the Hangzhou Museum of Fine Arts in Zhejiang Province in 2001 and the National Fine Art Museum in Beijing in 2005.
